

Dear ACM CCS 2018 Travel Grant Committee Members,

I am writing in recommendation of my PhD student Guixin Ye to receive a travel grant to attend CCS 2018. As a PhD student I believe Ben will benefit from attending this conference in a number of ways. He will be given the opportunity to network with other PhD students and experts in this field, allowing him to create collaboration opportunities in the future. He will also be presenting a poster of his own work while there, which allows him to receive some valuable feedback on his work. A conference is a great opportunity to see the current State of the Art in this field. As the third author of a paper (ID Number: ccsf150) already accepted at the conference he will also gain some insights into the process of effectively presenting his own work.

Guixin is currently funded by a PhD scholarship which is able to provide tuition fee payment and living expenses. Unfortunately, this is not sufficient to cover expenses for international travel. I hope the Travel Grant Committee Members will give Guixin a travel grant. Thanks very much.

Sincerely,
Prof. Dingyi Fang
Northwest University, China
dyf@nwu.edu.cn

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dingyi Fang', with a stylized, cursive script.